

I find living in los Angeles has some down falls. One is the local traffic reports on the radio AM or FM are a bit behind on there reports which for a person that travels the road a lot is important. Also I like to know the information anytime I want and not just in rush hour traffic periods only. Most radio stations will only tell you the traffic reports during Monday-Friday between 5:00 am thru 9:00am and 4:00pm thru 7:00 what happens on the weekends and others times on the day one BIG Zero. It is really nice to have it 24 hours a day and current.
